

UN Sustainable Development Goals - Overview

Did you know that the UN sustainable development goals are a universal call to action that unites 193 countries around the world. If these global goals are fulfilled by 2030 life on Earth will be better for everyone. So what are these goals?

Eliminate poverty in all its forms.

No hunger everyone should have safe nutritious and sufficient food.

Everyone has equal access to health care, thus ensuring our well-being and a healthy life.

Equal access to a quality education.

Ensure gender equality where women and girls have the same opportunities as men and boys.

By achieving these goals each member of our society will be equal, safe and happy.

UN global goals also include.

Access to safe drinking water and sanitation.

Access to clean energy that is safe for people and the environment.

Sustainable and stable economic growth. Everyone has a decent job.

Strong infrastructure and the support of innovations.

Lower inequality within and among countries.

Cities and settlements be developed without damaging the environment and people.

Achieving these goals will result in the well-being of people and our planet.

We can further take care of our environment with the following goals

Sustainable and safe production and consumption of products.

Take urgent measures to reduce climate change and its impact.

Ensure the sustainable use and protection of ocean and sea resources.

Restore and protect Earth's ecosystems.

By achieving these goals we will form a society where strong institutions ensure peace and justice. It is important for everyone to be involved and to build partnerships for achieving sustainable development goals. You are part of this process. Demand the implementation of these goals, take the lead and share information with your friends.
